

Punjabi Market

EST. 1970

ARTWORK BY Jag Nagra

For the past half-century, Vancouver's Punjabi Market has been more than a marketplace to BC's South Asian community. The market's stores and restaurants, smells and tastes have been a slice of faraway home, a cocoon of belonging. Now, through a cross-generational collaboration comes a specially curated gift box that captures this nostalgia. Featuring gorgeous hand-picked items from the market, this premium gift box brings alive all your senses. The box is curated by artists Mustaali Raj and Minahil Bukhari working with ISF2021 featured artist Jag Nagra (Creative Director of the Punjabi Market Regeneration Collective) in collaboration with shop owners in Punjabi Market.

CHAI SHAI

Brass cup
Parle-G biscuits
Chai mix

Enjoy making your own cup of chai from a specialized spice mix brought to you by the Chai Wagon. Paired with Parle-G, tea time will become a truly memorable experience (especially for first timers).

NAG CHAMPA

Incense Sticks
Floral Holder

Get lost in the magical scents radiating from Meera dhoop sticks. This set comes with a collectible floral incense holder that serves both beauty and function.

COLOURFUL TREATS

Magic Papads

Mini papadums with a twist. Toss these into the frying pan and see them come to life.

MUGHLAI MASK

Premium Mask

Custom-made cotton mask from our friends at Mona Cloth House. It features a classic floral booti pattern iconic of Mughal times.

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH

Mysore Sandal Soap
Copper Watering Pot

Classic Indian soap featuring pure natural sandalwood oil — nature's gift that emanates lingering fragrance. This pairing includes a copper feature that duals as both a display piece and miniature watering pot.
